From our Pastor

Vacation Bible School

Our church campus will be full of activity, laughter, and energy this week as we host our annual Vacation Bible School (VBS). With more than 600 children, along with 250 volunteers, expected for the week, there won't be many corners of our buildings empty of activity. But why is such a week so important, and does it truly deserve the emphasis, financial backing, and priority it receives?

Vacation Bible School mobilizes hundreds of volunteers who serve in various capacities, including classrooms, parking lots, craft rooms, recreation, refreshments, worship rallies, and more. What a joy it is to see our church family living out the "Cared for & Counted on" motto as they give of their time and energy for this week.

This week is also a time to meet new families who have moved into our community since last year's VBS. Many families talk about how VBS was an "on-ramp" event for their children and family, as it allowed them to get to know our church in a setting outside of our normal Sunday morning routine. Our community continues to grow with new people moving in each year, so events like VBS are an open door for them into the life of First Baptist Church Statesboro.

Most important, however, is the opportunity to share the Gospel with hundreds of children at VBS. In their Bible study sessions and during worship time, children will learn about the price Jesus paid to save us and make us right with God. In age-appropriate ways, the story of Jesus is explained, and children are invited to surrender to Jesus as Lord and Savior. Each year, many children make a profession of faith, which makes all the work, planning, and craziness worth the effort.

If you are one of our volunteers, thank you for serving the Lord and our church this way. If you are unable to be a volunteer, please pray for a wonderful week and encourage those who will be serving in one of the many ways that make VBS a successful week.
